

Co-op & Career Centre: Job Search Checklist

Career Resources

ONLINE JOB SEARCH STRATEGY

1. Use a variety of online job boards to identify positions of interest.

	Target	Website(s)
☐	AC Students & Grads	HireAC
☐	General	Talent Egg (Students & recent grads), Indeed , Job Bank , Glassdoor
☐	Non-Profit	Charity Village
☐	Government	Municipal (City), Provincial , Federal , Federal Student Work Experience Program (FSWEP – Student Only)
☐	Global Opportunities & Internships	Various Websites
☐	Industry Specific	Technata (Technology), Goodwork (Environment), HCCareers , Accor (Hospitality), Apply to Education (Education) Engineering Careers (Engineering)
☐	Freelance	Fivrr , UpWork
☐	On-Campus	HireAC (Filter by organization), Students Association , Algonquin College Careers , Student Ambassador Application , Peer Tutor Application , Student Navigator Application
☐	Disability & Diversity	Various Websites

2. Generate a list of potential employers by using company directories, searching associations and visiting company websites to see if they have jobs posted that are not advertised online.

Target		Directories
☐	General Directories	Book of Lists , Yellow Pages , LinkedIn Company Directory .
☐	Technology Association	Kanata North Business Association
☐	Community & Social Services	Champlain Healthline , 211 Ontario
☐	Other	Library Guide Complete List of Associations

NETWORKING STRATEGY

☐	Attend job fairs, employer session and networking events: HireAC Events Calendar , Peter's New Jobs Ottawa Job & Career Fairs , Eventbrite , Jobs Canada Fair , LinkedIn Company websites.
☐	Make new connections by reaching out to other professionals on LinkedIn. Use your elevator pitch when introducing yourself to make a good first impression.
☐	Make cold calls: Cold calls are more useful in some industries than others (i.e. retail, food services, hospitality). Contact companies by phone or email to inquire about potential job opportunities.
☐	Gain volunteer experience: AC Voulteer Centre , Volunteer Ottawa , Charity Village

NETWORKING STRATEGY

☐	Conduct informational interviews: Meet with industry professionals to gather information for informed career decision-making. Find out more about jobs within your occupation, tips for applying for jobs and skills requested by employers. Here are some questions you could ask: • What suggestions do you have for someone trying to get a job in this field? • What are the personal qualities of people who are successful in this field? • What are the core skills you look for on a resume? • What education and training is needed? • How would you describe a typical week in terms of percentages spent on different duties? • What do you enjoy most about this position or organization? • What are some tasks or projects that you are currently working on? • What skills can I focus on to help me prepare or excel for work in this field/industry/job? • What advice would you give to someone with my educational/professional background? • What is the work culture like in your organization/industry? • Is there anyone else or any other organizations that you would recommend that I talk to?
☐	Join social groups: Become a member of an industry-related association, join groups on LinkedIn, and/or check out Clubs and Communities through the Student's Association. Other websites where you can join groups include: Meetup and Eventbrite. Follow AC Alumni groups and the Career Centre LinkedIn pages.
☐	Seek our mentorship opportunities: Look for professionals with industry experience to support you in navigating your career path. Use the script below to guide you when reaching out.
☐	Consider using Recruitment Agencies
